KIDNAPERS OF OIL MAN MAKE DEMAND TODAY

Telephone Attorney a Ransom of $75,000 Will Free Gettle

Los Angeles, May 11—(AP)—A ransom of $75,000 has been demanded for the release of William F. Gettle, kidnapped Beverly Hills millionaire, the District Attorney's office announced today.

Ernest E. Noon, attorney for Mrs. Gettle, informed District Attorney Buron Fitts he had received a telephone call "from a party who informed him they had Gettle alive and wanted $75,000 ransom."

"About 8:30 o'clock this morning," reported Noon, "I had a telephone call from some mail."

"The conversation went something like this:

"Mr. Noon?

"I said 'Yes'.

"Will you pay seventy-five grand?"

"Why yes, why yes?"

"Well make up your mind."

"All right."

"Now you follow the instructions, and everything, and you will be all right," the man told me."

Line Cut Off

Then, said Noon, there was some reference to an automobile and the line was cut off.

"By reference to an automobile, I mean that the man began talking something about a car some place."

"I couldn't quite get the drift of it when the line was cut off. We are now waiting for another call from this party."

The woman, described as a brunette about 30 years old and fairly well dressed, fell into a police dragnet early this morning along with six other persons, who also were questioned.

After apparently examining the woman at some length, Capt. Norris Stensland, Sheriff's office extortion expert, and a figure behind the solution of a number of other kidnapping cases here, said:

"It looks hot, boys! I think we have something. It is possible that we will have this solved within five hours."

To Stensland's declaration, Blayne Matthews, chief of the District Attorney's investigators, added that their inquiries gave "promise that we might have something important."

The woman was taken into custody by three police homicide officers in ferreting out haunts of the underworld. She was turned over to the Sheriff and District Attorney's office for examination but officers who questioned her declined to disclose the nature of the information obtained.

Significantly it came several hours after Ernest E. Noon, lawyer for the kidnapped oil millionaire, upon returning from a 35-minute trip, said at his offices he had obtained "very important information which may lead to the identification of the kidnappers." Whether there was a connection between the woman and his statement remained unanswered.

Sick Wife Appeals

As the hours passed without direct word, a grief-stricken family of a mother and four children appealed to the abductors to spare the husband and father from any harm and expressed willingness to pay any sum for his freedom.

"I beg you not to harm my husband and father of my four children," said the appeal issued by Mrs. Gettle.

"Please realize that I am ill and that this tragic turn of events has seriously aggravated my condition. Realization of the detention of my father has seriously and patently affected our four children."

In the petition, Claire Baker, the plaintiff directs action against Edward J. Henrichs, who was declared the elected candidate at the April election. The petition states that the count of the judges showed 23 votes for the plaintiff and 31 for Henrichs, who was declared elected. Incorrect and erroneous counting of the votes by the election judges, improper marking of the ballots, voters who had not resided in the township or state the legally required length of time were also cited in the petition as reasons for the contest.

ANOTHER TRUCE IN SNATCHING OF JUNE ROBLES

Declared to Give Kidnapers Chance to Make Contact

Tucson, Ariz., May 11—(AP)—Another "truce" in the kidnapping of June Robles, six-year-old heiress, was observed by authorities today while her family sought to contact the abductors.

A request that officers withdraw from the case for the second time since the girl was kidnapped April 25, was granted to give the abductors a chance to send the Robles family a new set of instructions for delivery of the ransom money.

Fernando Robles, father of the victim, announced he was able to raise only $10,000 of the demanded $15,000 ransom. Those who helped him raise that amount, he said, demanded that the girl be produced alive before the sum was delivered.

Prior to the conference with officers at which the truce was arranged, Robles indicated it was useless to attempt to contact the kidnappers under conditions outlined in the original ransom note. A second note, which was understood to have contained proof that the child still was alive, did not change the original instructions.

Authorities still had in custody a Mexican who described himself as the original "contact man" for the kidnappers. His story earlier this week sent armed posses searching across the border in search of the girl in a renewal of official activity after the first truce to allow the family to deal unhampered with the kidnappers.

Insull Freed On Bonds As Attorney Pleads He Was Same As "Kidnaped"

Lawyer Attacks Jurisdiction of United States Courts

Chicago, May 11—(AP)—The case of Samuel Insull was continued until next Tuesday morning today by Judge Philip L. Sullivan, following an attack on the jurisdiction of the U. S. courts in this case.

The continuance was at the request of Dwight Green, U. S. District Attorney, who said he needed time to study Insull's petition. Insull was taken to the judge's chambers and Attorney Floyd S. Thompson said he would seek to complete all arrangements so that Insull would not have to return to the county jail.

His fellow defendants on the bankruptcy charge however, entered their pleas of not guilty, and Judge Sullivan without discussing the value of Insull's contention, postponed the hearing until next Tuesday.

Met Old Associates

For the first time since the retiring utilities executive quit Chicago two years ago for a hop-skip and jump across the Atlantic and Europe, he came face to face in the court house with his old time associates.

One by one they strode past him leaning over for a handshake or a pat on the shoulder, Insull remaining seated as he pumped each hand. Notably missing was his young brother and protege, Martin Insull, who forestalled trial on the federal charges by the terms of his extradition from Canada and, awaiting trial by the state, has not yet come up from his Morocco bind, retreat to visit his elder brother.

Immediately upon the calling of the hearing by Judge Sullivan, Attorney Thompson rose and offered the plea to the jurisdiction of the court preventing his client from making any acknowledgment that he is legally held.

Seizure "Kidnaping"

The plea contended that detention of the Greek freighter Malotis in port at Istanbul was improper, his arrest detention and finally delivery to an American diplomatic officer all without due process of law and tantamount to kidnapping.

Judge Sullivan received the plea without comment and summoned Insull's old business friends to the bar. Already his co-defendants, months ago had pleaded not guilty to the charges of mail frauds in marketing the corporation securities company stocks.

Samuel Insull Jr., was called first and entered his plea of not guilty to the indictment alleging improper handling of assets of an insolvent company. Then in turn came Harold L. Stuart of Halsey, Stuart & Company, investment firm; Philip J. McEnroe who was a vice president of Corporation Securities; John F. O'Keefe, secretary; Edward J. Doyle, president of Commonwealth Edison Company; Stanley Field former chairman of the Continental Illinois National Bank, and a director of Corporation Securities; William R. Irwin, and Charles W. Daniels.

Bond Approved

At noon a surety bond for $200,000, already signed by Insull himself was approved by U. S. District Attorney Dwight H. Green and signed by Federal Judge Sullivan. The bond was furnished by the Fidelity & Casualty Company of New York.

Insull was instantly taken in hand by deputy sheriffs of Cook County who served warrants alleging larceny and embezzlement from funds of the Mississippi Valley Investment Company, and another trip to the Criminal Courts Building on the west side was begun.

There property had already been scheduled toward the $50,000 bond required on the state charges.

Two Men, Woman Arrested as Band of Bank Robbers

Richmond Ind. May 11—(AP)—Two men and a woman, suspected by police of being members of a gang that held up several banks in Ohio recently were arrested here early today after being routed out of a house by tear gas. They gave their names as Harry Hopkins, 23, of Jamestown, O. Vernon Taylor 23, Springfield, Ohio and Thelma Mitchem, also of Springfield.

Eight federal agents from Indianapolis aided local police in the capture. The agents were called last night when it was suspected John Dillinger widely-sought desperado, or some of his recent companions, were in the house.

Chicagoans Get Most of 'Gravy' in Illinois AAA

Washington, May 11—(AP)—Representative Dirksen (R. Ill.) today attacked the agricultural administration in Illinois because, he said, he could see no reason why its affairs should be conducted by 150 "amplified individuals" only three of whom live outside of Chicago.

He questioned why such men as Francis X. Busch and John S. Miller, both of Chicago, should be listed as special attorneys at a pay of $27.77 per day.

"In the King's English" he said "that rate of pay means $10,000 a year."

"With the exception of a regional representative at Mascoutah and at Jerseyville, Eugene A. Eckert and Joseph R. Fulkerson respectively, and an agricultural economist at New Windsor, Walter J. Kupper the remainder of the number are all headquartered at Chicago."

"This total of $350,000 or more per year would pay a benefit of $500 to 700 Illinois farmers if spread out over the land, and if each of the 700 farmers had 160 acres. The land thereby affected would be in the neighborhood of 112,000 acres."

Amboy High School Boys Depart from City Unannounced

Robert Reed and John Branson, 14-year-old students at the Amboy high school, disappeared yesterday afternoon without leaving any word of their plans, and the Sheriff's office and state highway police were today attempting to locate the youths. The boys left their homes as usual yesterday morning and went to school at Amboy. They were last seen in Amboy about 1 o'clock yesterday and left without giving any notice.

Their absence was reported to Deputy Ward Miller this morning, and he in turn furnished descriptions to the state highway police, who joined in the search. The parents learned that the boys had talked of going to Rochelle to obtain work, but investigation this morning in that city failed to elicit any information. Authorities at Mt. Vernon have been notified as it was believed that the boys might have gone to that locality, where relatives reside.

The Reed boys wore a blue shirt, grey striped trousers, brown shoes and a grey cap. The Branson boy was attired in a blue shirt, light grey trousers and wore a dark brown cap.

Tent owners willing to help the Boy Scouts enjoy this over-night outing are asked to communicate with Mr. Bennett, who will hold himself personally responsible for the return of tents in good condition, taking into consideration, of course, the wear and tear on account of setting up and taking down and the action of the elements.

British Newspaper Headlined Roosevelt's Debt Edict as a "Highwayman Act by the U. S."

London, May 11—(AP)—One British newspaper, the London Evening Star, in its first edition today headlined President Roosevelt's decision that taken war debt payments mean default as "Highwayman Act By U. S." but abandoned the streamer in subsequent editions.

The Star's first edition carried as a subhead under its banner, the words: "Pay up in full or—"

Later editions switched the front page display to a quite different phase of British-American relations, carrying an eight-column headline: "Blow To Our Walker Cup Hopes."

Another newspaper, the News-Chronicle, expressed the view that behind the scenes influences were involved in the President's decision.

While the press made a great deal of the situation, government officials remained silent, and it was stated that the Foreign Office has no official advice regarding the decision.

SIGNATURE OF GOVERNOR ALL THAT'S NEEDED

Passages Completes Special Session Action on Bill

Springfield, Ill., May 11—(AP)—Governor Horner's bill for state enforcement of NRA codes was passed by the Illinois Senate today, completing special session action on the controversial issue.

The administration bill was supported by 28 Senators, one of them a Republican lame duck. The necessary majority was 26.

In the opposition were fifteen votes, two of them from Democratic critics of Governor Horner.

Final adjournment of the third special session, which has been deadlocked for three months over school relief and NRA enforcement, was expected to be taken later in the afternoon.

Partisan arguments were reviewed during the three-hour roll call, during which the Republican minority denounced the Horner administration and the NRA codes, which are to become a part of Illinois law.

The bill makes possible the trial in state courts of NRA violators.

Senator Harry Wright of DeKalb voted against the bill.

AMERICAN GOLF PLAYERS TAKE THREE OF FOUR

Quimet and Dunlap Only Americans to Meet Defeat

St. Andrews, Scotland, May 11—(AP)—American golfers' first venture of the 1934 campaign in international competition was crowned with success today as the United States Walker Cup foursomes won three out of four matches from their British rivals. Eight singles matches will be played tomorrow.

Jonny Goodman, bold young U. S. open champion, and his stocky, square shouldered partner, W. Lawson Little made a runaway of their match with the crack British team, Roger Wethered and Cyril Tolley, winning 8 and 6.

The other American victories were scored by 50-year-old H. C. Egan and Max Marston, who defeated the Hon. Michael Scott, British captain, and Sam McKinnlay, 3 and 2, and Gus Moreland and Jack Westland who conquered Harry Bentley and Eric Fiddian 6 and 5.

Frances Quimet, bespectacled captain of the American side, and George T. Dunlap, Jr., American amateur titleholder were the lone Americans to dip their colors. Waging a losing battle all the way Quimet and Dunlap fought gamely and doggedly but were vanquished by Eric McRivie and Jack McLean, 4 and 2.

He said during their engagement every time Miss Scherz put a quarter in their bank, he put in a dollar. When their engagement was broken, he testified, she refused to return his share.

APPREHENSION OVER DROUGHT IS INCREASING

Sec. Wallace Concedes "Highly Abnormal Condition"

Chicago, May 11—(AP)—Apprehension over middle America's crop prospects grew hourly today.

Parched prairies and plains, long baked by a hot sun and swept by swirling choking "black blizzards" of dust, swelled the alarm of agrarian and city dweller alike.

A north wind in Nebraska carried no dust, but neither did it promise rain which state experts cautioned was necessary soon to avoid a tremendous loss in grain crops.

Temperatures generally over the middle west were down, some as low as freezing, and no Federal meteorologist forecast a hope for rain within the next two days.

In eastern North Dakota and most of northern Minnesota the temperature fell last night to below freezing.

"The weather," said the official forecaster, "will be fair almost generally Friday in the north-central states, but unsettled conditions are likely in parts of the Great Plains area."

Dixon Need Have No Fear of Water Shortage Any Time

With many communities reporting a threatened water shortage patrons of the Dixon Water Co. will be reassured by the announcement that there is no danger of such a condition in this city. The Dixon company has found deep artesian wells, all of which were tested during the latter years of the management of the late George Hawley, and the experts then reported that any one of the wells would afford sufficient water to supply the community for many years to come, even with normal growth in population.

are, with some prospects of local showers in that section by Friday night or Saturday."

Showers Valueless

Light showers have fallen in the Chicago area—the first in twenty-eight days—and in Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas, but they were regarded as of little value. The Chicago Board of Trade took cognizance of the situation and the prices of all future deliveries of wheat skyrocketed and the dust clouds from the vast plains of western Canada swept across the border with undying intensity yesterday, befogging the entire area from Montana on the west, Texas on the south and the Ohio valley of the east.

So thick were the floating sheets of real estate that airplane service between Chicago and St. Paul was interrupted. Pilots reported that the dust particles had invaded the upper portions of the air—as high as 10,000 feet, and were sweeping eastward at the rate of 60 to 100 miles an hour.

Without Precedent

Experts said the "black blizzards" were without precedent in intensity and the area involved within the past twenty years.

Chicago's skyscrapers, which ordinarily loom before the eye at great distances, were virtually blotted from sight. How many thousands of tons of dust were involved could not be estimated. Air conditioning experts calculated 308,950 particles of dust to the cubic foot at the corner of Clark and Washington streets, in the heart of Chicago's loop.

One estimate was that some 12,000,000 pounds of dust had been swept into Chicago—four pounds for every man, woman and child in the city.

Many persons suffering from sinus and eye infections were sent hurrying to specialists for relief.

Caused Fatalities

Blinded by dust, a woman was killed in a motor vehicle accident near Dupres, S. D., another woman died at Sykeston, N. D., she was pinned beneath a chicken coop, blown over by the high wind.

Meanwhile crop experts agreed that the wheat crop had been impaired, and reports said that other crops had also suffered.

So serious was the water shortage in some localities that municipal embargoes were established on drinking water.

Nor was the central west alone in its aridity. Farmers near Cumberland, Md., prayed yesterday for rain.

In the afternoon they got it.

WALLACE SEES LIGHT

Washington, May 11—(AP)—Roosevelt farm officials, with an apprehensive eye on the drought stricken midwest, conceded a "highly abnormal" crop situation today but asserted there still should be enough food to go around.

account of the havoc caused by heat, wind and lack of rain in the last ten days, related that even on the basis of previous conditions many crops would be the worst in years.

Secretary Wallace pointed out, however, that the forecast of a winter wheat crop of only 461,371,000 bushels would find a possible carryover of 247,000,000 bushels.

"There certainly is no immediate danger of food shortage of any kind in this country," said Wallace, "but if this drought continues, it behooves all of us to do some really serious thinking."

Need Flexible Program
"If we should have a succession of drought years, we would want to be sure that we had an agricultural program sufficiently flexible so that the farmers of the United States could not only be assured of food themselves, but also be sure of providing an adequate supply to other people of this country who depend on them for food."

The outlook for winter wheat alone as of May 1 was reported yesterday by the Department of Agriculture as 170,590,000 bushels short of the average harvest for 1922-1931.

Hay crops and pasture were described by yesterday's report as in the poorest condition of any May 1 in half a century, and the condition of rye was at a record low.

Drought damage is most severe in the areas from the Dakotas and eastern Montana to New Mexico and the Texas Pan Handle.

Maranville Fears His Major League Playing Days Over

Rochester, N. Y., May 11—(AP)—Walter E. (Rabbit) Maranville second baseman of the Boston Braves recuperating at his home here from a broken leg sustained during training early last month, today said he doubted if he would ever be able to play big league baseball again.

"It looks as if I'm through," said "Rabbit," "and I think I'll never field another ball nor go to bat as a major leaguer again."

There was a note of sadness in his voice as he reported his broken leg was not healing properly and that it would certainly keep him out of the game this season at least.

It had been generally believed that Maranville would be back in the line-up by July 1.

WLS Home Talent Barn Dance Was Largely Attended

The first appearance of the WLS Home Talent Barn Dance show was greeted by a full house at the Amboy opera house last night.

The stage depicted a real barn loft with all the evidences of the presence of old dobbie. "Old Biddie" let known her presence in loud intermittent cackles.

The "Two Little Maids", delighted and responded with encores. Full of fun from beginning to end, there is two and one-half hours of varied entertainment. Society NOTES

School at Stony Point Is Honored

The end of another successful school term was happily observed at the Stony Point school Tuesday, May 8. A bounteous picnic dinner was enjoyed at noon, the dessert of "finishing course" course being ice cream and cake (in large quantities). There were over one hundred present to enjoy the day.

An event of the afternoon, of which everyone directly concerned in the school and district are justly proud, was the dedication of the school by L. W. Miller, County Superintendent of Schools, as a Standard Graded School. This is the second highest rank in the classification of schools in the state of Illinois, being next to the Superior. Mr. Miller made the presentation of the plate and diploma with befitting words. The president of the school board, E. C. Risley, made a very gracious speech of acceptance in behalf of the members of the Board of Education and of the district. The teachers pledged themselves to help maintain the standard and to raise it wherever possible.

Members of the Stony Point district have been proud of their school and its accomplishments and this recognition from the state which follows several detailed inspections, augments this pride.

A program by the pupils was then presented and proved to be interesting and entertaining.

The pupils have been particularly faithful in attendance and punctuality, evidenced by the following awards:

Primary Room
For regular and punctual attendance for the entire year: Patsy Risley, Elias Jones, Howard Smith, Harriet Bay, Kenneth Stanley, Mary Lou Stanley, Shirley Williams.

Upper Grades Room
For regular and punctual attendance for the entire year: Thelma Wombwell, Evangeline Szabo, Carl Bay, Kathryn Smith, Henry Williams, Louis Szabo, Lena Berei, Virginia Wombwell, Joseph Szabo.

A pin for regular and punctual attendance for thirty months: Lena Berei.

Promotions
Pupils who were promoted from the Primary room to the Upper Grades room: Lorraine Pritchard, Mary Risley, Kenneth Stanley, Murphy Stanley, Shirley Williams.

Six pupils were members of the class of graduation from eighth grade, their exercises of which were held at Nachusa, May 2. They were as follows: Anna Vied, Lyle Pritchard, Avis Williams, Josephine Hollingsworth, Winifred Smith, Oscar Smith.

They were presented to the audience. At this time one of the members presented to Miss Stanley a handsome walnut end table as a gift of remembrance from the class.

At the close of the afternoon, guests departed with expressions of a very enjoyable day and pupils of a happy year spent.

The teachers, Mrs. Coral Lambert and Miss Maybel Stanley have been reengaged for the next year of school.

League Studies Unemployment Insurance

The Illinois League of Women Voters has long studied the problem of unemployment insurance and is now interested in the passage of the Wagner-Lewis Bill (S. 2616 and H. R. 7659). The bill is designed to encourage the enactment of state unemployment compensation legislation.

The Wagner-Lewis Bill proposes a Federal excise tax of 5 per cent. on payroll of all private employers. In states which have satisfactory unemployment insurance, however, each employer will be allowed to deduct from the Federal tax the full amount of his required contributions to the state unemployment fund. Obviously, this deduction clause removes the "interstate competition" argument as an obstacle to state unemployment compensation legislation.

In order to promote the passage of "sham" state laws and to protect the employees, it also provides that the deductions may be made in no state until the Secretary of Labor has certified that the state unemployment compensation law meets specified minimum standards. Nevertheless, the bill does not dictate to the states what manner of laws they should pass and allows them ample time, before the Federal tax goes into effect, to enact laws sufficiently comprehensive to draw the entire tax back within their own boundaries.

State unemployment insurance laws in order to be certified would be required to provide for:

1. Regular contributions by employers.

2. Systematic weekly benefits of at least ten weeks, or else a period fairly measured by past employment.

3. No insuring through private companies.

4. State administration or supervision with joint advisory committees assisting.

5. Impartial hearings on disputed compensation claims.

6. Specific safeguards for labor standards and union membership.

The prolonged industrial and economic dislocation of the nation has brought this question of unemployment insurance into the field of active legislative consideration.

The people generally have come to realize the necessity of such a measure and the Wagner-Lewis bill has on the whole favorably received.

The next step after its passage will be for the Illinois legislature to pass a law meeting the above stated minimum requirements and thus keep their money at home.

Burket School Picnic at Closing

The Burket School closed Monday, April 30th. The pupils and teacher enjoyed a delicious picnic dinner prepared by the mothers of the community at the noon hour. As an additional treat, the school board sent ice cream, which was a great delight to the children.

The following pupils were honored for attaining a perfect attendance record this year—Norma Crawford, Ethel Helfrich, Grace and George Helfrich.

Ethel Helfrich has received one hundred in spelling every day since school started last fall. Little Earl Burket, a second grader, ranked second in spelling honors.

There were two graduates this year, Norma Crawford and Ellsworth Burket.

The afternoon was spent in playing games, which were enjoyed by all. At the close of the afternoon the children received their prizes and reports. This closed a successful year for both pupils and teacher, Miss Gunhild M. Hanson.

AND ALL HOPE THE DUST HAS SETTLED—

Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Brown (in most any northern Illinois town) this morning consoled each other as they chatted over the back fence this morning. "Dust" seemed to be the objective of their chat. And homes which have just been house cleaned, came in for another thorough cleaning today. The high wind which carried the dust and dirt through the air has died down. Clear air, blue skies, sunshine, are blessings which we take as a matter of course, but today, it is safe to say, many people are sending grateful thanks to the Most High, for their restoration.

ENTERTAINED OVER THE WEEK-END—

Mr. Brewer, who is an interior decorator, installed the completely modernistic furniture in the attractive Lorene Beauty Shop.

Sidelights on Cooking School Session Yesterday

Before the school opened yesterday many women were heard discussing their success with some of the recipes offered by Miss Egger the opening day. One woman was especially impressed with her success with the liver loaf.

Another woman tried the tip top pie that evening and declared that her rivalled the instructors and her family had called for another one today.

The next time you are in Peoria on Monday afternoon perhaps you'll take time to attend one of the weekly food lectures given at the Palace theatre by Miss Egger.

The cooking school has proved so popular among Dixon women that many of the social and club meetings were postponed for the last session today.

When you place your roast in the oven, place it fat side up and it will not require basting.

Dip your kitchen scissors in powdered sugar or cold water when you cut your next marshmallows.

Those clever triangular trays which fit the top of a card table were suggested by the instructor yesterday for a time saving way to serve your bridge luncheons. Have you seen them?

The instructor's favorite tool through the school seems to have been her Scotch spoon. In reality just a little rubber scraper that gets all the batter and is easy on the bowls and refrigerator trays.

Do you always add a pinch of sugar as well as salt when cooking fresh vegetables? It improves the flavor one hundred per cent.

Here's a hint that may be helpful in an emergency sometime. When you run up against a jar with a stubborn top, such as those on some olive bottles, hit the top side flat on the floor and presto, it is off.

Add a pinch of baking powder to your mashed potatoes when you place them in an oven dish and they'll fluff up like snow.

Winners of Audition for Festival

A good deal of conjecture has been taking place as to who are the winners in piano and voice auditions. These young people will have solo parts in the festival, but their names will not be divulged until the night of the concert.

It is rumored that one contestant was so unusual that she had to be taken from the class in which she was entered, and put in a class by herself. The names of four contestants receiving honorable mention will be announced at the festival.

As the participants themselves do not know who is to receive the awards, May 14th is awaited with great anticipation. Robert Smith, a pupil of Professor S. B. Samuelson, who plays first cello in the Philharmonic orchestra, is to play a cello solo by Goltermann. Mr.

Smith won the Gold Medal Award for cello last week at the state music contest at Macomb.

The Overture, "Harold," which is to be played by the Philharmonic orchestra, was written by Dean Ball. Mr. Ball, who is the first oboe player in the orchestra, wrote the forty parts of the overture.

Orchestration of this type is a great work, and we are proud to have the premier performance of this overture in Dixon.

Important Day for Ladies G.A.R.

Monday, May 7th was an initial day in the history of the Ladies of the Grand Army of Dixon Circle No. 73. The Department President, Miss Wilma Ramon, together with the national inspector made their official visit.

The meeting was well attended. The Department Registrar Frederica Molter together with Mrs. Shavenassey of Freeport were in attendance.

The relief report was very good and as the lunches at the schools are discontinued there will be no more cookies sent to the school this month. A report of the recent card party was given and the rug given away at that party was presented Mrs. Addie Eastman, who accepted it with some interesting comment.

Department and national general orders were read by the secretary. The report of the inspector was very gratifying to the circle officers and the talk given by the department president was especially good. After the meeting ice cream and wafers were served and a social hour was enjoyed.

Most Interesting Talks Men's Club Dinner, M.E. Church

The Men's Club dinner last Tuesday evening at the Methodist Church was unusually interesting.

A delicious dinner was served by Circle Three Mrs. W. H. Brewster as Chairman. Harold Flamm had charge of the musical program, presenting several numbers by guest musicians.

The president of the club, I. A. Hardy, discussed the Centenary emphasis now being made in the church and indicated the character of the June meeting. Mrs. J. N. Weiss spoke impressively for the womanhood of the church and its efficiency and willingness to serve in the program of the Parish.

Couched in literary beauty Mrs. Weiss gave effective emphasis in stories quotations and personal observations to the power of consecrated Christian womanhood in promoting the interests of the Kingdom of Christ.

Prof. B. J. Frazer then spoke on some implications of the Christian profession in the day in which we live. It was observed at the outset that the speaker was deeply in earnest. His discussion of the character of the world into which Jesus came and that which He died about it was both graphic and fundamental in understanding the meaning of the Christian religion as a redemptive force in the world.

Mr. Frazer was very effective in the selections of scenes in the career of Jesus, presenting their strategic value in making a better world. One caught the vision of a man of great convictions about God and man in Jesus as the speaker proceeded with the rections of the Man of Galilee to His environment. He required much needy world, from those who would follow Him in that distant day. It was a needy day. Human life was so cheap! He is no different today the speaker affirmed. He requires very much, even more of His followers here and now. Ours is a needy world, too. Human life is cheap. Human values are put below property values yet. To follow Christ today is a Man's job, plus all the assistance he can obtain from religion and science, as every other power.

It was truly a timely and telling appeal the man-power of the church needed to hear.

Two Honored At Reception

On Tuesday evening a large number of friends from Dixon and surrounding towns were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Ripon, at a reception, in honor of the latter's sister, Miss Hazel Wilkins, who recently returned from a winter's sojourn in Frederic, Maryland. Tuesday, also being the birthday of Miss Mabel Smith, this occasion was also celebrated. Decorations were in beautiful spring flowers and the bounteous table was graced with a huge birthday cake which was presented to Miss Smith by the hostess. The major part of the evening was spent in games and in reminiscing. The esteem in which these two young ladies are held is evident in the beautiful gifts presented to them by their friends. At a late hour all reluctantly took their departure voting the evening a pleasant one and wishing Miss Smith many more happy birthdays and Miss Wilkins continued success in her work, which her friends feel assured she will achieve with her pleasing personality.

Closing Picnic at Hill School

A large number of friends and patrons of the Hill School gathered at the schoolhouse, Wednesday May 9th, to help celebrate the end of a very successful school year. Y.P.M.S. Meeting Monday Evening

The Young People's Missionary Society of the Christian church met at the home of Miss Evelyn Graf for their May meeting Monday evening. There were twenty members and guests present.

The president opened the meeting by all singing a hymn. The hymn "Sweet Hour of Prayer" was then sung for the prayer.

An election of officers for the ensuing year resulted in the following being chosen:

President, Miss Ethel Seyster.

Vice Pres., Miss Evelyn Graf.

Sec., Miss Betty Schildberg.

Treasurer, Miss Dorothy Schmidt.

Librarian, Miss Dorothy Fisher.

A happy feature of the evening was the program given by the young men. Glenn Padgett led the presentation period. Kenneth Reese gave an excellent talk.

The May meeting will be held at the church and the Circle will give a short program and the new officers will be installed.

At the close of the meeting the hostess served delicious refreshments.

THE STOCK MARKET BILL.

Representative Dirken of Peoria says he has received more than three hundred letters and telegrams in opposition to the Fletcher-Rayburn bill, which, in its present form, is designed not only to regulate stock exchanges, but to control all corporations whether their stocks are listed on exchanges or not. Not a request to vote for the bill had been received by him at the time he issued the statement.

Objections to the stock market bill are of the same kind that stand against the securities law. Neither law is essential to recovery. Both hinder recovery.

Each one is an act like a major operation upon a patient that is being kept alive by artificial administration of oxygen.

It may have been desirable to have made some special requirements in connection with issues and sales of securities, but with business at a low ebb it was not one of the things that need immediate attention, such as the banking situation. It could have waited, or, at least, until the patient had strength for a shock. Not only was there a major operation performed upon the securities system, it appears now that it was an operation that would interfere with business even in the most favorable circumstances.

The result has been that financing of industries dealing in heavy articles has been paralyzed. The result has been that while there is an urge here and there to go ahead, the industries offer the alibi that they are paralyzed by the securities law.

From time to time it is reported in Washington that the President is about ready to meet the situation by consenting to alterations in the law, and that may be a fact. Only a short time remains in which to bring about the reform.

The securities bill was one of the acts rushed through the special session of congress as if it were essential to recovery instead of a means of holding it back while the brainy could get in more work on a distressed people.

Now comes the stock market bill. We can have recovery without alteration of the rules of the stock exchanges. These exchanges need some reforms, but in order to obtain them it is not necessary to lay a threat of government control against all corporate business. That is what Representative Dirken says the stock market bill is.

If the government desires to reform the stock exchange, it ought to be about to do so without assuming control over every corporation, regardless of the fact that its securities are not on sale on the exchanges.

We were warned concerning the securities bill, and predictions came true. We are warned by the business world about the stock market bill, and if it is as well informed on the stock market bill as it was on the securities bill, the wiser course is to quit performing major operations on a patient that is not even able to stand minor ones.—Moline Dispatch.

BAD NEWS FOR FASCISM.

A recent newscable from London asserts that the newly organized British Fascist party is now believed to have fully 500,000 ardent and disciplined members. Originally looked upon as more or less of a joke, this party not long ago won the support of the great newspaper baron, Lord Rothermere; as a result, it is beginning to cast a long shadow across British politics and leaders in other parties are beginning to get worried.

As it happens, news of this growth in British Fascism reached here at about the same time as did news that Britain is at last winning its fight with the depression.

Taxes are being reduced, aid to the unemployed is being increased, the government has a sizable surplus, and prosperity, at last seems to be just around the corner.

And that, probably, will puncture this growing bubble of Fascism. For Fascism is a philosophy of desperation.

Men turn to it when they are convinced that only drastic measures will avert a great smash-up. Let good times return, and it is apt to drop out of sight of its own weight.

SAVING THE LAND.

It seems odd to think that land itself—solid, enduring, part of Mother Earth—can actually be destroyed. But it can; and Secretary of the Interior Ickes asserts that the future usefulness of no less than 173,000,000 acres of public land depends on passage by Congress of the administration's grazing bill.

This area—larger than all of France—is deteriorating, says the secretary, because of over-grazing by livestock.

Removal of the forage crop makes the land a prey to wind and water erosion; if left to itself, it will eventually become a useless stretch of desert.

The pending bill would regulate grazing on the land, keep it in use to the limit of its potentialities, and save it for future generations. It ought to get Congress' approval without delay.

There is a theory that women must have a certain percentage of their bodies naked—say 15 per cent. It's not that nakedness is as much as elementary desire among women as it is a fashion.—Miss Beatrice Mathieu, Paris style reporter.

Soon, Duncy to the scholar said, "I have a real brain in my head. You've shown us how well you can spell. Now, let me try my luck."

"Give me some big words. Then you'll see that I'm as smart as I can be." "Ha, ha," laughed little Dotty. "I'll just bet that you get stuck."

And, she was right. The lad soon was in quite an awful muddle 'cause somebody named the word "believe," and Duncy sighed. "Oh, gee!"

He finally spelling, through, was not so good. "You're wrong," cried Duncy, "you should put the i before the e."

The great big school clock then boomed 10. The scholar cried, "I'm late again. And, look, here comes my teacher. My, oh my, but she looks mad."

The teacher then said, "Come, my son, this is the end of your day's fun. I'm going to keep you after school today for being so bad."

"Oh, don't blame him," said wee

Goldy. "We are visitors around here, you see, and he just stopped to talk to us. We really are to blame."

"All right," the teacher then replied. "But I must take him right inside. He misses lessons almost every day. It is an awful shame!"

The two then went into the school and Duncy said, "Come on, let's fool around until we meet someone." Then Windy cried, "Oh, look there!"

"It is Mary's lamb. He stopped to play, while following her to school today. Now he must wait till school is out. It doesn't seem quite fair."

Then Duncy said, "He has a rope around his neck. Aw, gee, I hope that I can grab a hold of it. Then he'll be safe and sound." He caught the dangling rope all right. The lamb, though, ran with all his might. All of the Tinkies laughed to see poor Duncy pulled around.

RAYNAUD'S DISEASE

A relatively new and promising treatment for a disease which, though fairly uncommon, is in its mild forms disturbing and in its serious forms excruciatingly painful, has recently been reported.

The condition is known as Raynaud's disease, and the treatment for it, which is surgical, is termed sympathectomy. The name of the disease is derived from that of the physician who originally described it.

According to the classical description, the disease occurs in young women and affects the hands. In actual experience, however, it is also seen in young men, and involves the lower extremities as well as the upper ones.

The disease appears in various grades and may be mild or severe. In the milder form, the symptoms are like those of chilblains. There are spasms in the smaller arteries of the affected limb, leading to alternations of blanching and blushing. In its severe form, the disease is very trying; the pain is of great severity. The spasms may block the circulation of blood to the affected part to a sufficient degree so that gangrene, or death, of the furthermost portion of the part affected may result.

The mild forms of the disease ordinarily require but little treatment. For the severe forms there has in recent years been developed surgical treatment, which has been adjudged by many to be quite effective. This treatment involves the cutting of certain sympathetic nerves. These are the nerves which apparently carry the impulses which cause the constriction of the smaller arteries in the affected limb.

This method of treatment is especially effective in dealing with

COOKING SCHOOL TABLE

Typical of the table decorations used yesterday at the Telegraph-Kelvinator Cooking school is this arrangement suitable either for a luncheon or an informal dinner. Beautifully set and decorated the table reflects the utmost in good taste. The dominating colors of the Pickard china dessert and supper plates, are blue and rose. Cups and saucers were of Bavarian china.

The silverware was in the Lady Hamilton patterns of Community, the centerpieces were of pewter and the compotes of Wallace silver. The georgoustac service which attracted so much attention was of the director's pattern in sterling. This entire setting was furnished and arranged by the W. E. Trein jewelry store.

The centerpiece was fashioned of yellow snapdragons in a pewter bowl furnished by the Dixon Floral Company. Flowers for the setting, and the home economist and her assistant have also been furnished by these florists each day. The dining room ensemble was furnished by the Frank H. Kreim furniture company.

What makes such a difference in evaporated

Subjected to the severest tests the milk industry has yet evolved, Borden's is quality milk. Accept no other.

HORNSBY'S TIP ON SOX' YOUNG STAR WAS "DUD"

Pitchers Listened to Rajah and Just See What Developed

New York, May 11.—(AP)—It seems that Rogers Hornsby, looking over the White Sox in his official capacity as manager of the Browns, saw something about the way young Zeke Bonura, from Texas waded at a slow curve that led him to believe that there was the big White Sox rookie's hitting weakness.

So one night, while making a radio speech from St. Louis, the Rajah mentioned his discovery. Apparently from what developed later, all the pitchers in the league were listening. In the White Sox, avid dual twisters, were incensed.

REGAINED APPETITE AND WEIGHT WITH KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN

Cereal Relieved His Constipation

If you are a sufferer from headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness, or any other of the frequent effects of constipation, read this enthusiastic letter from Mr. McIntyre:

"For a long time my system was not in very good working order. But since eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, I have regained my appetite and my lost weight. And my system is in good working order. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN sure does the trick."—Mr. J. A. McIntyre, 160 Ruscomb St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides the "bulk" needed to relieve ordinary constipation. It also contains vitamin B and iron for the blood.

You'll enjoy this delicious and healthful ready-to-eat cereal. Serve it with milk or cream—or use often in cooking.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is all bran with only necessary flavoring added. It contains much more needed "bulk" than part-bran products. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Cleveland at Boston.

parently from what developed later, all the pitchers in the league were listening. In the White Sox, avid dual twisters, were incensed. "If Hornsby gets wise to a thing like that, why doesn't he keep it to himself?" one of the veterans demanded. "This young fellow hasn't done him any harm that he should be setting the whole league onto him."

But Zeke, whose nickname is a contraction of physique, said nothing at all.

Look What Happened
Buck Newsome, of Hornsby's own Browns, threw him a beautiful slow curve. Zeke banged it into the stands. Monte Pearson of the Indians, another radio listener, fed him a slow curve. The ball left the premises immediately. Recently in Washington Earl Whitehill nicked the edge of the plate and that was home run No. 5 for Bonura.

"Say I don't know what the yellow about," said Zeke placidly. "I like slow curves, always have. If they'll do all right in this league." Bonura, 25 years old, six feet tall and weighing 205 pounds, is the pet of the ball club from the new manager, Peppy Jimmy Dykes, all the way down the roster. With only five years of professional experience in the Southern and Texas Leagues behind him, Zeke's hitting is staying right up around 300.

"I never had much trouble hitting," he says. "These major league pitchers are smarter than the fellows down in Texas. They don't give you as much good balls to hit at. But they've got to give you some, haven't they?"

DIXON SCHOOL'S GOLFERS DEFEAT STERLING TEAM

Victorious Twice In Their Matches With Provincial Rivals

By BRADLEY MOLL

The high school golfers have been busy in the early part of the season and have held several match plays with other schools in the vicinity, and have to date made some real scores and have given a good account of themselves on foreign fields.

In the two dual meets with Sterling, both match plays, the Dixon golfers did their stuff and took the Sterling lads to the proverbial camp. In the first meet with Sterling the Dixon boys scored 27 points, seven men on each team, and the Dixon lads each taking three points, the scoring basis in match play giving one point for the winning of each nine holes, and one point for the low scores for the entire eighteen holes. In the second meet the Dixon team again came through in great style, and in spite of the high wind and strange course the Dixon players came through with a score of 27-2 losing but two points on the above scoring basis.

The Dixon team recently went to Rockford and lost out by a very slim margin on a course they had never played before, and with the Rockford team coming to Dixon in the near future, another victory for Dixon seems to be in the offing.

In regard to the future events there will be a triangular meet between Dixon, DeKalb and Rochelle, at Rochelle the 14th of May. In regard to low scores the Dixon team is led to date by Dick Durkes, who has played exceptional golf and who led the field in the first Sterling-Dixon meet with a 76, and the second meet with an 80, which, considering the weather conditions was very good. Harry Lazier was elected to the captainship of the team, and will lead the purple and white golfers to more victories in the near future.

MID-IRON REQUIRES STANCE FARTHER FROM BALL

"Playing a mid-iron," says Bob Cruikshank, "I stand a little farther from the ball than when using the mashie-iron. The reason for this is that the shaft of the mid-iron is a trifle longer."

In the backswing, the club should be taken back with the left hand, and the left arm held fairly straight. The right elbow must hug the body. In this stroke, more wrist action is necessary due to the fact that the backswing is longer than required for the mashie-iron.

At the top of the swing the mid-iron should be in a position half way between that of the wood and the mashie.

Picketing Begun at Mattoon Shoe Plant this Morn

Mattoon, Ill., May 11.—(AP)—Peaceful picketing was started at the local plant of the Brown Shoe Company today after 650 workers were locked out of the factory.

The workers, who had been engaged in a "sitting strike," were given their pay checks and sent home after they found the plant padlocked.

More than a thousand persons, including delegations from five Illinois and Indiana, which have been closed by strikes, discussed strike plans at a mass meeting last night.

In commenting on the situation, Superintendent J. G. Alexander of the Murphyboro factory where more than 700 workers are striking said, "we will discuss labor matters with the employees at each plant but not with delegates from all the plants as a whole."

"We are living up to the code in hours and wages and operate an open shop. We will hire both union and non-union employees," Alexander said.

DERBY WINNER TO SEEK HONOR IN PREAKNESS

Seven Horses Expected to Challenge Cavalcade

Baltimore, May 11.—(AP)—More riches and an honor achieved by only three other horses lay before the thundering Cavalcade today as a small but select band of three-year-olds went through its final rehearsal for the 44th running of the $25,000 Preakness at Pimlico tomorrow.

The task of stopping Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane's Kentucky Derby winner seems hopeless in view of his brilliant victory at Churchill Downs last week. Yet seven owners have expressed their willingness to risk the starting fee of $500 on the chances of their charges, three of which opposed Cavalcade in the Derby.

If Cavalcade wins he will join the select trio of Sir Barton, Gallant Fox, and Burgoon King, the only horses that ever won both the Derby and the Preakness.

Although it will be a small field that faces Starter James Milton at about 4 P. M. CST., it will be Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Discovery and Mrs. Frank J. Heller's Agrarian, the two horses closest to Cavalcade at the finish of the Derby, and High Quest, a stablemate of Cavalcade which won the Wood Memorial.

In addition to Mrs. Sloane's horses and Discovery and Agrarian, the starting field is expected to come from Mrs. Payne Whitney's Spy Hill, the only other Derby starter; Norman Church's Riskus, Mrs. F. A. Garraud's Time Supply, George Willing, Jr.'s Swift-sport and Houghton P. Metcalf's Snappy Story.

What Price Drewrys Ale?

Here's the answer:
Less than the price of a highball.
Less than the price of a cocktail.
And just as much kick as either.
Less than the price of a couple of steins that have been pushed up at the bottom and caved in at the sides.
And twice as much kick as both.
A full twelve-ounce bottle of mellow old Drewrys Ale with its extra-strong alcohol content is the most satisfying summer drink in America today.
And apparently the most popular, regardless of price.

'34 CUBS BUILT AROUND KLEIN AND LIVELY BALL

Short Right Field at the Wrigley Park Also Potent Factor

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Events of the past two days have confirmed sundry surmises that this year's edition of the Chicago Cubs was built around the new and livelier National League ball and the short right field at Wrigley Field.

A strong wind blowing toward the right field stands made conditions right for the long hitters of the Cubs and Brooklyn Dodgers the last two days and 13 home runs have been the result. Brooklyn got a little the better of the home run rivalry but the Cubs won both games, pounding out a 12 to 8 decision yesterday although outlived 16-14. As a result Chicago stretched its league lead to a game and a half over three rivals.

Strengthen Hold
While Lon Warneke was staggering through to win the game which saw Chuck Klein wallop his eighth homer, Gabby Hartnett his sixth and Tony Cuccinello his second in two days, Pittsburgh's game with the Phillies was rained out and the Cardinals took their second straight from the Giants, 5 to 4. This combination gave the Pirates second place with New York and St. Louis tied for third.

Jim Mooney's relief pitching after Bill Hallahan had been knocked out in three rounds and some clever base running by Pepper Martin and Joe Medwick gave the Cardinals their eleventh victory in twelve games after they had trailed by three runs at the start. The Cincinnati Reds whipped the fifth-place Braves 5 to 2 as St. Johnson held Boston to seven hits and narrowly missed a shutout.

Gehrig Was Poison
Lou Gehrig put on a one man show in the American League's headline game, figuring in every one of the Yankees' scoring spurts that brought them a 13 to 3 victory over the Chicago White Sox. He poled two home runs and two doubles to drive in seven runs before retiring after five innings.

Cleveland's Indians gave Boston a six run start in the first inning then came from behind to win 11 to 10 when Earl Averill and Joe Voshmik hit homers, each with two aboard, and the Red Sox gave up seven unearned runs through four errors.

The Athletics gained a 5 to 3 victory over Detroit on home runs by Bob Johnson and Pinky Higgins and the four hit pitching of Roy Mahaffey and Alton Benson. Since the Washington-St. Louis game was rained out, the A's tied the Senators for second place and Cleveland moved into fourth, passing the Tigers and Red Sox.

Old Wooden Railway Station in Chicago Burns Early Today

Chicago, May 11—(AP)—A spectacular early morning fire destroyed the wooden station of the Chicago, South Shore & South Bend Railroad at Randolph street yesterday.

One fireman was injured in fighting the flames which rose to great heights as the dry wood of the old two-story structure, which housed some of the offices of the South Shore line as well as those of the Illinois Central suburban service.

Traffic in Michigan Avenue was halted and extra details of police were sent to handle a crowd of about 10,000 attracted to the scene. Firemen estimated the loss at $25,000. The case was unknown.

Beavers' Choice of Trees

Most of the trees cut by beavers for food and building material are of little value, according to a bureau of biological survey report which says that aspens, cottonwoods, birches, pin cherry and such shrubby woods as willow, alder, brush maple, hazel and smaller bushes are usually chosen by these interesting wood cutters. Occasionally, however, the beavers will attack more valuable trees which happen to be situated on lake or stream fronts or in orchards near the water, although the beavers will not bother them if they are protected with strips of woven wire.

Greek Fire

Greek fire is a composition supposed to have been made of pounded resin or bitumen, sulphur, naphtha and niter. Naphtha is the principal ingredient. It was this mixture that was employed by the Greeks from about 673 A. D. onward to defend themselves against the Saracens. It was poured out burning from ladles on the besiegers projected out of tubes to a distance or shot from ballistae, burning or tow tied to arrows.

THREE-DAY COOKING SCHOOL ENDS THIS AFTERNOON

Thousand Women Are in Attendance at Closing Session

More than seven hundred women of this community today were unanimous in their regret that the Telegraph-Kelvinator Cooking School was brought to a close this afternoon. Each of its three-day sessions has brought increasing crowds and increasing enthusiasm. Today, only standing room remained for those late comers. Profiting by their experience of yesterday some women arrived as early as 1 o'clock to assure themselves of a seat near the stage.

Judges were busy this afternoon scoring the hundreds of slogans and choosing the one most suitable to describe the beautiful Kelvinator's Twentieth Century refrigerator. The winner of the prize refrigerator given by The Evening Telegraph will be announced late this afternoon together with the names of the winners of the Sunbeam Mixmaster, the recipe contest and the numerous food baskets donated by the local merchants.

Supper Menu

Yesterday afternoon Miss Mary Egger, who is in charge of the school, prepared a Sunday night supper menu for the women, demonstrating the ease with which this type of entertaining may be done and the numerous suitable dishes which may be prepared in advance.

Each dish demonstrated yesterday had particular appeal in its attractive appearance and adaptability to decoration. Those women fortunate enough to taste one of these dishes have lost little time in claiming them.

Miss Egger, who has been assisted each afternoon by Miss Purcell, literally took the women onto the stage with her and showed them the little tricks and intricacies in kitchen time and energy savers.

Attractive Dishes

She first prepared a delicious rolled pork loin roast which she roasted on a baking sheet, uncovered. After placing this in the oven she began the other dishes on the afternoon's menu.

An unusual salmon loaf using a custard and gelatin base was made ready for the refrigerator. Frozen egg nog was another of the unusual recipes. The merry-go-round cake had been prepared by Miss Egger in the morning that it might be ready to display in the food parade. The cheese bake was prepared on the stage, as was the cranberry punch, rainbow sandwich loaf and a number of artistic canapés. All of these dishes were awarded the women.

On the stage this afternoon Miss Egger prepared a crown roast of Living Our Everyday Lives

ON BEING OFF GUARD (By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton)

Edward White writes of canoeing with the Indians in a way to make the heart beat faster. Any lake has all sorts of waves, he tells us, no two of them are exactly alike. Any one of them can swamp us only too easily, if it is not correctly met. Each wave is unique, asking for a poise and a skill not demanded by any other wave.

Then he adds a bit of striking wisdom: Be just as careful with the very last wave as you were with the others. Get inside before you draw that deep breath of relief. It is so woefully easy to be caught in the slips and be capsize. So quickly, too, before you know it. To be off our guard for one moment may mean that we get a good ducking.

Life for all of us, is very like that too. Each day, each event, each person we meet. Each wave on the lake, is different, and may be a good day. Perhaps, but in the way it requires. Our days may seem dull, monotonous, all alike, but each has a trick of its own. To forget that fact, to be off guard, may mean a sudden slip and a bad error.

So swiftly, like a bolt from the blue, calamity pounces upon us when we are unawake, unwatchful. All the wise ones tell us so—Browning, for example, in his vivid line "The sin I impute to each 'frustrate ghost is the unlit lamp and the unlit lamp.' Exactly; we unbuckle our belt, relax our grip, and in the twinkling of an eye the thing is done!

Some one said the other day that the world is tired and needs to take a good nap. Perhaps, but there is a time to sleep, and a time to be awake. In the great Bunyan story it was while Little Faith slept at the corner of Dead-man's Lane that three rogues robbed him, almost beating his brains out. He was off-watch and paid heavily for it.

All of us look back upon some some stupid thing done, some cruel word uttered in an old careless, callous hour, and wish we could undo it. We were not at our best and it did not express our real self. It was done in an unlit moment when we were off guard, yet—mercy of God—how it hurt and how much we would give to be able to recall it!

DONNA of the BIG TOP

by BEULAH POYNTER

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DONNA GABRIEL and MADELINE SIDDA who call themselves "The Gabriel Sisters" are circus performers. Years earlier Madeline ran away from her grandfather's home.

When Donna is injured in a fall from the trapeze Madeline arranges for her to be taken to GRANDFATHER SIDDA's farm. To please her partner Donna pretends to be Madeline. She falls in love with BILL SIDDA, Madeline's cousin, and though she is ashamed of deceiving Bill and Grandfather she is afraid to tell them the truth.

Meanwhile Madeline marries CON DAVID, animal trainer with the circus. He tells her he is going to put her in his animal act. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XIV

ALMOST before Con David had kissed his bride, the entire circus troupe descended upon them. Down the Pullman aisle came the strange folk, rattles and horns and drums raising a blarney din above the grind of the train wheels and the chug-chug of the engine. State room doors were thrown open. Chairs and cushions were flung into the aisles. Hampers of food and, against all regulations, bottles of wine and beer were produced. Every one from clown to musician, from equestrian star to midge, had something to contribute to the festivity in the way of food or song or story.

When it was time for Con to make a speech it was discovered that he had disappeared. During the merry-making and confusion he had slipped from the car to the one adjoining, thrown himself on a couch in the smoking room and fallen asleep.

His absence was a signal for the crowd to disperse, though none of them realized as Madeline did (since no one else knew that Con did not love her) that the celebration of his wedding was like pouring vinegar into an open wound.

Madeline was pale and weary when she bade the crowd good night. Then she sat down to wait for her husband's return. She had few illusions about her marriage. Con had played the gallant to save her, really. Between herself and Renfro he had been catapitted into a publicity stunt that made a husband of him. Nevertheless, she argued, he need not insult her this way.

When the cheap, unadorned pine casket entered the earth, the young woman wept bitterly. Then, alone, she trotted dejectedly away.

The Rev. Emory Luckcock of Oak Park Ill., pastor of a Shanghai American community church, who granted Julian a religious funeral service March 28, completed his task this afternoon.

In the brief commitment service Rev. Luckcock prayed that Julian's "life eternal may be comprised of experiences different than those making up his earthly career."

From time of death to the grave Julian's body occupied three coffins—the first two being luxurious caskets provided in anticipation of shipment for burial in America.

In Cheapest Box As no funds were received, except a modest sum from his wife in Winnipeg, the promoter's body was relegated to the cheapest pine box available.

The only means of identification of the coffin was a brass plate, nailed to the lid. On it was inscribed merely "C. C. Julian."

Immediately after the ceremony at the grave, which required but a few minutes, Chinese coolies began pouring in the earth—forever closing life's book on this dramatic character who died in abject poverty after fleeing from Oklahoma where he faced charges of fraud.

She bathed her face in cold water, opened her makeup box and proceeded to rouge her cheeks and lips. When her appearance was improved she opened the state room door and peered into the aisle. It was still in darkness. A draft of cold air made her shiver. She lifted a shawl from the untouched berth, pulled it about her bare shoulders and then crept cautiously, noiselessly down the corridor. On right and left doors were closed, but from the slatted transoms issued snores and audible breathing.

She stepped out on the platform and stood in the chill morning air, letting the wind tangle her curls until her befoiled senses cleared a trifle. Then she went into the next car. The smoking room door was ajar. Con, in his wedding suit, sprawled on the couch, one arm flung over his head, the other hanging limp at his side.

Her lips twisted as she stood looking at him. Then, with a half-defiant toss of her head, she entered the room, closed the door behind her and crossed to his side. She bent over him and placed her hand on his forehead.

He moved, opened his eyes, blinked in bewilderment and then sat upright. "Has the gang gone yet," he asked.

"Gone?" It was morning. I didn't want any one to find you here. It might cause talk."

"Morning!" He looked towards the window. "Good Lord! Have I slept here all night?"

"You have."

"Oh, I'm sorry. Why did you let me?"

"We won't speak of her," he said coldly. "If you're going to lay the blame on Donna every time I do anything you dislike we'll get along about as peacefully as a lion and a tiger. I'm not used to staying awake much after midnight and I was tired. Maybe that doesn't seem much of an excuse to you—but I didn't intend to hurt you. You've got to believe that."

"If you loved me nothing could have kept you away from me last night," she said.

He took her hands and pulled her around, facing him. "Let's get this straight, Madeline. I never said I was crazy about you but I think you're a nice kid. I'm fond of you. You said you loved me and I would take me just as I was. I'm no good at pretenses—and if I was I wouldn't make them. Too much of an effort. But there's no reason why we can't be happy together if you don't get false notions and jealousy in your head. Probably I'll make you a better husband than if I were mad about you. And I promise not to walk out on you again. Forgive me?"

"Yes."

He took her hands and pulled her around, facing him. "Let's get this straight, Madeline. I never said I was crazy about you but I think you're a nice kid. I'm fond of you. You said you loved me and I would take me just as I was. I'm no good at pretenses—and if I was I wouldn't make them. Too much of an effort. But there's no reason why we can't be happy together if you don't get false notions and jealousy in your head. Probably I'll make you a better husband than if I were mad about you. And I promise not to walk out on you again. Forgive me?"

"Yes."

Sunday will be the second of the four loyalty Sunday morning services in May. About seven hundred members were present at the service last Sunday morning. This means that a little over three hundred Methodists did not find it convenient or possible to be at their church at this service. The invitation committee under A. N. Richardson as chairman is making an effort to arouse the remaining three hundred.
Sunday will be observed as Mother's Day, and the maximum attendance at the church school, the two worship services and the Fellowship and Epworth League meetings is being sought.
At the morning service, 10:45, the Pastor will conduct the service and preach. The choir will sing "Fear Not, O Israel" by Spicker. A quartet composed of Genevieve Thomas, Alberta Peterson, Raymond Well and Orrin Peterson will sing "Come Unto Me" by Tschakowsky. The organist will play "Prayer and Gratitude Song" by Gullmant. The people will sing four old lovely hymns. Everyone is invited. Have the young men usher seat you near the front that the late comers may have the back seats.

The church school will open by departments at 9:45. All will find hearty welcome, good teachers and valuable study materials.

Mrs. Coolidge Also Known for Silence

Washington.—While Mrs. Calvin Coolidge was noted as one of the most brilliant conversationalists who ever graced the position of First Lady of the Land, she was also as silent as President Coolidge from a public point of view.

During the years she was in the White House and as wife of the Vice President of the United States, Mrs. Coolidge never made a public speech or allowed herself to be interviewed on a public question.

Her theory was that the first commandment of a politician's wife should be: "Thou Shalt Not Talk Politics." Mrs. Coolidge did, occasionally, see writers for newspapers or magazines and was most gracious in helping them with their stories, but never as coming from her.

Mink Is Blood-Thirsty

The blood-thirstiness of the mink apparently is not due to gluttony but rather to an insane desire to kill for the sake of killing. For this animal rarely stops to eat while there remains anything to slay.

Nash has built
A MILLION CARS

...and Nash Dealers are Giving
A MILLION DEMONSTRATIONS in 30 days

Nash dealers are out to show a million motorists—in 30 days—what there is that's so different in the driving of a 1934 Nash or its companion car, the new LaFayette.

Within 30 days, all America will have a better idea of modern motoring at its very best.

Nash already has built and the public has bought a million Nash cars—evidence as strong as evidence can be that Nash puts something into its cars that is out of the ordinary.

You are invited to ride in a Nash or a LaFayette, or both, to see for yourself how Twin Ignition steps up motor performance—how the LaFayette "jeweled movement" engineering lifts the performance of this new Nash-built car clear out of its price class.

Call us for your "One in a Million" ride. We'll expose you to no high pressure salesmanship except that which you'll discover in the car.
